DRILLING COMMENCES AT CAMEROON IRON ORE PROJECT

Legend Mining Limited (Legend) is pleased to announce that diamond drilling has commenced at its Cameroon Iron Ore Project in West Africa. Legend has contracted South African drilling company Geosearch International to undertake a planned programme of 5,000m utilising a man portable diamond drilling rig.

Drilling will initially focus on three targets in the Eseka region, all located within 8km of the main exploration camp. The rig will then move to regional targets as prioritised by geological mapping and field investigations. Access to some targets may be affected by the weather over the next two months with the onset of the wet season.

Legend Managing Director Mark Wilson said, "We are extremely pleased to have started drilling within a year of being introduced to the project. Within this timeframe we have undertaken an extensive aeromagnetic survey, identified and field checked several targets and are now drill testing these targets".

The drilling programme will be ongoing, with additional rigs available to Legend, if required. Results of the drilling will be released to the market as they become available.
